DISPUTE RESOLUTION ACT

The purpose of the Dispute Resolution Act, which was enacted in 1983, is to: “provide to all people of this state convenient access to dispute resolution proceedings which are fair, effective, inexpensive and expeditious.”

In 1986, the Supreme Court of Oklahoma adopted the rules and procedures for the Dispute Resolution Act, 12 O.S. 1801 et seq., providing guidelines for the establishment of dispute resolution centers. A 15-member Dispute Resolution Advisory Board appointed by the Supreme Court of Oklahoma serves in an advisory role to the Administrative Director of the Courts who oversees the Alternative Dispute Resolution System. The State Director of the Alternative Dispute Resolution System manages the program operations which are based out of the Administrative Office of the Courts. The thirteen (13) regionally based Early Settlement Centers operate under the authority of the Oklahoma Dispute Resolution Act and are funded* by a $7 district court civil filing fee. Annual renewable grants are awarded to the sponsoring agency by the Administrative Director of the Courts. The Tulsa Program receives partial funding & the City of Norman program is self-funded.

There were 5,835 cases referred to Early Settlement Mediation in FY 2024

STATE AGENCY MEDIATION PROGRAMS

There are fifteen (15) state agencies with mediation programs. The Office of Management and Enterprise Services (OMES) program serves all state agencies offering employee mediation services. The volunteer agency mediators use the facilitative mediation model and are trained through the Alternative Dispute Resolution System.

PEER RESOLUTIONS FOR OKLAHOMA STUDENTS

The Administrative Office of the Courts, Alternative Dispute Resolution Program partnered with the University of Central Oklahoma in January, 2021 to begin a statewide Peer Mediation Program. Students are taught to use conflict as a positive force that can lessen the detrimental effects of conflict while increasing a student's social skills and promoting a positive self-image. In the words of the first lady on the Oklahoma Supreme Court (1982), Honorable Justice Alma Wilson,

“If we teach Oklahoma’s young people about resolving conflicts in a peaceable manner the impact will be far reaching for future generations.”

LAW SCHOOL STUDENT MEDIATORS

All three (3) Oklahoma law schools participate in a student extern program offered through the local Early Settlement programs. The law students are required to complete specialized mediation training and become certified during the course of the externship. Participants get mediation experience conducting small claims, real estate, and civil mediations. Many students choose to participate in a second externship mediating family and divorce cases. Over 475 law students have participated since the program was established in 2010.
